

VICE PRESIDENT SENDS RED CROSS DONATION

Harrison's Daughter Also Among Day's Many Contributors.

Close upon the contribution of President Wilson, comes that of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, who yesterday sent the Red Cross a check for $50. A check for a like amount came from the daughter of the late President Harrison, Mrs. James R. McKee. Until the finance committee receives reports from the government departments committee it cannot make public the contributions received on Patriots' Day from that quarter.

The Society of Washington Artists, through their executive committee, Richard N. Brooks, offered 100 of their best pictures by leading Washington artists, all framed to be sold, the total gross proceeds to be given to the Red Cross.

The pictures will be on sale in the Fairfax room at the Willard, April 30 to May 5. Yesterday afternoon Chairman McFarland conferred with President Callahan and other members of the Rotary Club as to the details of their co-operation with the finance committee.

Three new auxiliaries to the Red Cross are in process of formation. Douglass Memorial Church, Eleventh and H streets northeast, enrolled thirty members this day night and are awaiting an assignment. Wesley Chapel, Fifth and F streets, is now organizing a unit and expects to have it completed next week. The auxiliary formed at the court house has received its papers and now has an instructor. Several other churches and organizations are fast enrolling members and when they receive their papers of organization they will be assigned an instructor.

TEST FOR AUSTRIAN CREWS.

Immigrant Examination Ordered for Interned Enemy Allies.

Officers and members of crews of Austrian vessels now lying in American harbors under control of government officers, were ordered last night to be subjected to the usual immigrant tests to determine whether they are eligible to land on American soil. Assistant Secretary of Labor Louis F. Post tonight instructed immigrant inspectors at ports where the ships are anchored to issue admission papers to those who may be found entitled to land.

In the regular course, such officers or seamen will be examined and the special boards of inquiry will be given entry any found ineligible. The Austrian officers and sailors were placed in the custody of the immigration agents as soon as orders were issued taking over the vessels at the various stations.

DISPUTE ON TWO WILLS.

Miss Mary E. Melick yesterday filed a caveat protesting against admission to the Probate Court an alleged will of Mrs. Marian Robinson, who died April 1, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The alleged will, dated March 2, 1917, and leaves the estate, amounting to $410, to her physician, Dr. Charles W. Allen. Under a will said to have been made a few hours earlier than the one favoring Dr. Allen, Miss Melick is made sole beneficiary. This instrument was filed two days earlier than the Allen will.

Miss Melick alleges undue influence and coercion. Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and J. C. Brown represent the testator.

SPECIAL NIGHT EXAMINATION.

Civil Service Appoints April 27 for Men Stenographers.

The Civil Service Commission announces a special night examination for stenographer and typewriter for men only to be held at the commission's building at 6 o'clock on the evening of April 27. The demand for men stenographers in the War and Navy Departments is so urgent, it is said, that practically all of those who qualify in the examination are assured of permanent appointment at an entrance salary of $1,000.

PATENT RIGHTS IN SUIT.

Eldridge E. Jordan filed in his answer yesterday to the suit for specific performance brought against him by the Campbell Machinery Company in connection with automatic shaft couplings to which the defendant had obtained patent rights, denied that the plaintiff had any interest in the patents. Ballard, Moore and Dowell appear for Mr. Jordan.

LONDON PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN SPIRIT

King George and Queen Mary Take Part in Ceremonies at St. Paul's.

(By the International News Service.)
London, April 20.—This is "America Day" in the United Kingdom.

King George and Queen Mary took part in ceremonies celebrating the entrance of the United States in the war. Everywhere in London the Stars and Stripes were in evidence today, and Old Glory floated from Parliament Building for the first time in history.

The King and Queen attended religious services in St. Paul's commemorating the intervention of America on the side of "freedom and human rights," and they drove to the cathedral through streets that blazed with the Red, White, and Blue colors.

All the important buildings were decorated, most of them having the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack intertwined. All the accommodations for St. Paul's were exhausted four days ago, but applications continued to pour in. The United States was represented there by Walter H. Page, the American Ambassador.

Premier Lloyd George could not attend, owing to the pressure of government business, and the government was represented by Chancellor A. Bonar Law. Bishop Brent, who officiated at St. Paul's, took his text from Macabees, second book, Chapter XIII, verses 13, 14, and 15.

The demand for United States flags was so great that practically all the stores handling them were sold out.

A Texas inventor's automobile has two wheels on the left side and one on the right so arranged that he claims no two of them will strike obstructions on a road at the same time.

SUFFRAGE IS PLEADED AS WAR EXPEDIENCY

Women Exhibit Flags of Women Suffrage Countries to Senate Committee.

Exhibiting the flags of twenty-two nations that have granted woman suffrage by action of their central governments, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, and of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, yesterday argued before the Senate Committee on Woman Suffrage, for the passage of the Federal suffrage amendment as a measure of war expediency as well as justice.

Representative Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, the only woman speaker besides Mrs. Catt, discussed the difficulties of amending the State constitutions, and the consequent need for Federal action. Senator Walsh, of Montana, argued for the constitutionality of the measure and against the States-rights objections. Senator Shafroth and Thomas, of Colorado; Pittman, of Nevada; Johnson, of California; Smoot, of Utah; Chamberlain of Oregon, and Kendrick, of Wyoming, answered the objections to equal suffrage.

Mrs. Catt characterized the manner by which Congress and State legislatures had blocked suffrage measures as "the mumbo jumbo of sectionalism, political party balance, and a form of mental anaesthesia, used to quiet the consciences of otherwise progressive men."

Form First Aid Classes.

Two classes composed of forty-one women employees of the Public Library staff are now enrolled for instruction in first aid work. Dr. William F. Hemler, of Georgetown University medical faculty, conducts classes at the library under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

NEWMAN CELEBRATES FORTIETH BIRTHDAY

Flowers and Notes of Congratulations
Mark Day for District Commissioner.

Commissioner Newman celebrated his fortieth birthday yesterday.

When the president of the board of commissioners arrived at his office floral tributes from a host of friends covered his desk, the place of honor in the center being taken by a large birthday cake with candles, the gift of his secretary, Miss Alice George.

Throughout the day friends of the Commissioner called with congratulations, numerous letters and notes from out of town were received and acknowledged.

Thomas Estrada Palma was the first president of the Cuban republic, and was inaugurated on May 23, 1902.

Are You Prepared, Mr. Man?
Spring's Here---How About Spring Shoes?

Here's Big News Of Big Savings

We Have Just Received Four Thousand Pairs of Men's Famous

BURROJAPS

GUARANTEED SHOES FOR MEN

We anticipated our wants over six months ago on these shoes. This is the last shipment on this order of $45,000.00 worth of these shoes.

You now get the benefit of our foresight and tremendous purchasing power. Few firms can afford to buy $45,000.00 worth of a single make of shoes, and fewer firms would do it if they could afford to do it. It takes experience and a knowledge of the shoe market combined with the ability to plunge when you know you are right to do this. We anticipated our wants on a big scale. You can now anticipate your wants. These shoes could not be sold at a fair profit for less than a much higher figure than we are quoting had they been bought on today's market. Unless all predictions of those in the shoe business, who should know, fail, they will be worth even more next fall.

TODAY ONLY

We have every size and width in Black Viking Calfskin, Tan and Mahogany Calfskin and the new Cordovan Colored Calfskin.

We offer these at an extra special price of $5.85 for this sale only.

Do not delay. Buy as many pairs as you can. The chances are you will not again be able to get such footwear at anything like this price.

You may choose either High Shoes or Low Shoes, as there are 4,000 pairs in all to select from.
